BUY NOTHING

<https://buynothingproject.org/>
Buy Nothing is a network of local gift economies. Gift economies offer people a way to give, receive, and lend items instead of buying from a store. You can get to know your neighbors, reduce consumption, and save money!

This page in particular is a work in progress!

Please email additional resources, projects, and information to share and I can add them to the next printing.

I am also looking for help translating more of the zine into Spanish!

community fridges and other mutual aid

A community fridge is a fridge located in a public space to allow members of a community to share food with one another. Unlike traditional food pantries, people are encouraged to add to the fridge or take food out according to their individual needs. There are no limits imposed, no ID or paperwork required, and the fridges are typically open 24/7. Donations are provided by food relief programs, community members, businesses and farms with excess food, and anyone else who would like to help. Community fridges are organized by members of each community as an effort of mutual aid; in solidarity rather than charity.

The Really Really Free Market Gilbert St & S. Broadway in South Lawrence

Some food is shared there, as well as books, toys, and other random gifts. Same idea, and overlapping organizers with the Lawrence community fridge. But it's better to not leave perishable food here.
